WERE THEY REALLY TORPEDO BOATS?

Russian Officers Swear That There Were.

Capt. Clado Raises a Laugh at One of the English Agents at a Trial.

TESTIMONY IS VERY STRONG.

Paris, Feb. 2.—The North Sea commission continues its sessions. Lieut. Ellis of the Russian battleship Alexander II. gave circumstantial evidence of seeing a torpedo boat among the British trawlers in the North Sea. He said he first saw a torpedo boat two miles off steaming swiftly towards the squadron on a course to intercept the flagship. As the torpedo boat advanced searchlights made her plainly visible, and a heavy cannonade was opened on her. The torpedo boat was evidently damaged and drew off to starboard and disappeared.

Lieut. Schmentchenko, torpedo officer of the Russian battleship Borodino, gave similar testimony to seeing two torpedo boats. He said:

"One was on the port side and was fifteen cable lengths away. I could not have been mistaken, being a torpedo officer. I distinguished its long, raking form. My long familiarity with torpedo boats made me take a careful look at the attacking craft. It was painted a dark color, had two smokestacks and was of the general type of torpedo boats usually attached to squadrons."

Counsel for Great Britain severely cross-examined the Russian officers, who maintained their testimony about the torpedo boats.

Capt. Clado explained why the Russians saw the torpedo boats and the fishermen on the trawlers did not see them, saying that the decks of the trawlers were seven feet out of the water and those of the war vessels forty-two. The captain caused amusement when a British agent asked him if ordinary boats were not mistaken for torpedo boats. Capt. Clado replied:

"An English Admiral once said: 'When you see torpedo boats advancing fire first and inquire about their nationality afterward.'"

Capt. Clado later testified that he did not see the torpedo boats sink. However, he thought the torpedo boat on the starboard sank. The other, the captain added, was less damaged. He was ignorant as to the ultimate fate of the torpedo boats.

COTTON BULLS.

Force Up the Price Nine and Ten Points.

New Orleans, Feb. 2.—Despite the tenor of the partial ginners' report read on the floor of the cotton exchange yesterday the backers of the cotton pool forced the price of cotton up nine and ten points, and it closed with that advance. After the day's excitement and turmoil, W. P. Brown, president of the Planters' commission and holding company, the style of the new trust, declared that Director North's partial report clearly indicated that not over 12,600,000 bales of cotton had been ginned, against something like 13,000,000 to 13,200,000, which the public had expected. Brown felt good over the day's fight. He says it is a clever victory for the planters who still have cotton to sell.

PROMPT DENIALS

CATHOLIC BISHOP SAYS THERE IS NOTHING IN THE STORY.

Cardinal Gibbons Also Issues a Statement About the Matter.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 2.—Bishop Conaty, of this Roman Catholic diocese, has entered an emphatic denial of the charges made Tuesday in Washington by Senator Bard that the Roman Catholic church had endeavored to influence the senator's action in the matter of distribution of Indian funds by the promise of political support.

The bishop stated that Scharf, whom Bard said was his informant, had caused previous trouble by representations regarding his connection with Catholic institutions and influence among Catholics.

Cardinal Gibbons Talks.

Washington, Feb. 2.—Cardinal Gibbons has sent the following statement to the representatives of the bureau of Catholic Indian missions in this city for submission to the senate committee on Indian affairs.

"In view of certain statements made by Senator Bard before the committee on Indian affairs of the senate, I deem it proper to state that the Catholic church has no political agent at Washington or anywhere else; that Prof. E. L. Scharf, who is referred to in Senator Bard's statement, is not an agent of the Catholic church, or of the bureau of Catholic Indian missions, and has never been employed by the church or by the Catholic Indian bureau in any way whatsoever."

HORRORS OF 1812 BEING REPEATED

Russians Suffering as They Did From the Turks.

Five Days' Battle On the Hun River Has Ended—No Advantage Has Been Gained.

THE BLOOD FROZE IN WOUNDS

St. Petersburg, Feb. 2.—The Mukden correspondent of the Novoe Vremya states that suffering in the recent fighting in the vicinity of the Hun river was terrible. The temperature was fifteen degrees below the freezing point, and blood from the wounded congealed as soon as it began to flow.

After five days the fighting has ended, with both sides returning to their original positions. A continuation of the Japanese turning movement is reported.

The five days' battle on Hun river yielded no palpable result. The Russians succeeded in driving the Japanese out of their advanced positions and repelling their flanking column. Russian cavalry proved extremely efficient.

Fought on a Great Plain.

The five days' combat will go down in history as the battle of Hun river. It was fought out on a seemingly unending plain which is broken only by the southern Ame Hyst mountains around Yantai, the solitary eminence of which is Liao Yang tower of bloody memory.

The bright glare of sun reflected from a dazzling expanse of snow was painful to the eyes and it was with difficulty that one could follow the black streak marking the Russian soldiers or the wandering skirmish lines dashing against what seemed dull gray rocks, but which in reality were the villages of Lidiatoun and Tanlepu and the extensive hamlet of Sandepas, bastioned by Chinese defenses and converted by the Japanese into veritable fortresses, surrounded with wire entanglement and earthworks.

Exposed to the intense cold of the Manchurian winter mounds of earth had become like granite and as impenetrable as the steel sides of a modern battleship.

Charged For Five Days.

For five days Russian soldiers hurled themselves against the defenses and the field artillery pounded them until the frosty air reverberated with the thunder of cannon, din of bursting shells and rattle of musketry; but neither the steel-pointed shell nor nickel bullet availed against the frozen earthworks. The gunners actually wept with despair at the impotence of their attack. Mortar batteries came up at a gallop in the hope of demolishing the fortifications. Night and day a stream of shells was poured against the earthworks, but it had very little effect. The men seemed indifferent to hunger or cold, which latter was of arctic intensity. Their fingers, hands and feet were benumbed, while stinging snow and dust blinded them.

Blood Froze On Wounds.

The slightest wound caused excruciating pain. Warm blood no sooner exuded from lacerated flesh than it began to freeze.

The wounded could not be left exposed and if they did not receive attention within an hour they died. Surgeons, their assistants and nurses were almost powerless in bandaging wounds for they were obliged to wear leather gloves or mittens in order to resist the cold. The men seemed to be living again the horrors of the winter campaign of 1812 against the Turks. Everything that could be done was done, but man was powerless to face nature, which heaped tortures upon the troops and defeated the well-thought-out plan of the commander.

DARLING RESIGNS.

ADMIRAL SYMONDS REACHES PADUCAH

Government Inspector a Guest of the City for Two Days.

Is Investigating Steamboat Inspections in the Larger River Ports.

HE HAS VISITED MANY PLACES

Rear Admiral F. M. Symonds, U. S. N., one of the two government inspectors appointed several months ago to look into the manner of steamboat and marine craft inspections, arrived at noon from Memphis and will be here today and tomorrow.

Rear Admiral Symonds will this afternoon meet Inspectors Green and McDonald, of Nashville, local marine inspectors, and will go over boats in the harbor here to see how the local inspectors do their work.

Several recent steamboat disasters were traced to the negligence of inspectors, especially the Slocum disaster at New York, when several hundred lost their lives, and President Roosevelt decided to have the methods of steamboat inspections thoroughly investigated, and two prominent naval officers were detached for the work.

Admiral Symonds was appointed for this part of the country, and has been to most of the larger ports above including Cincinnati and Louisville. From the latter place he jumped to the Mississippi river, and has been to many of the largest cities along the river.

He worked up to Memphis, and from there came to Paducah. During his stay in the city he will be shown every courtesy by the river men.

TRAIN HITS SLEIGH AND KILLS SEVEN

Deplorable Accident at Hornellsville, N. Y.

Several People Burned to Death in Various Places, and One is Frozen to Death.

A NUMBER HURT IN ACCIDENTS.

Hornellsville, N. Y., Feb. 2.—At Arkport a passenger train on the Pittsburg, Shawmut and Northern railroad crashed into a sleigh containing thirteen women, killing seven outright and so seriously injuring the remaining six that three died after being removed to the hospital. Of the other three two are in a serious condition. The sleigh was one of three carrying a party from the Universalist church of this city who had spent the afternoon at a farm-house.

The dead—Mrs. Mary Gillette, Mrs. Charles Thomas, Mrs. Eugene Shaw, Mrs. Joseph Hallett, Mrs. C. C. Graves, Mrs. Bert Moore, Mrs. Ruth Patchen, Mrs. Coates, Mrs. Fred Boughton, Mr. Fred Green.

It was nearly dark when the ladies started on the return trip.

The occupants of the leading sleigh saw the train approaching but passed over the tracks in safety. The driver of the second sleigh attempted to stop but he could not check the heavy sled quickly enough and when it came to a standstill was directly across the track. The pilot of the engine struck the sleigh with great force, reducing it to splinters and hurling the women in all directions. Every woman on the sleigh was killed or injured.

Others of the party hurried to the assistance of their unfortunate companions and the train was stopped and backed up to the crossing. The bodies of the dead were placed upon the train and the injured were laid upon improvised cots in the baggage car and brought to Hornellsville. The dead were placed in the morgue and the injured taken to a hospital where Mrs. Coates, Mrs. Boughton and Mrs. Green died.

JACK FLYNN STILL RISING RAPIDLY

Popular Former Paducah I. C. Official to Get Promotion.

His Rise Has Been Rapid—Will Become Superintendent of the Memphis Division.

HIS FRIENDS WILL BE PLEASED

Vicksburg, Miss., Feb. 2.—News was received here to the effect that J. J. Flynn, who for more than a year past has been superintendent of the lower division of the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley railroad, had been ordered to take charge of the Memphis division, the change to be effective shortly. Mr. Flynn succeeded C. N. Bell as superintendent of the lower division, and is very highly esteemed. It is reported that a young man by the name of Porterfield will succeed Mr. Flynn.

The above dispatch will convey pleasing news to the hundreds of friends in Paducah of "Capt. Jack," as he is known among the railroad men. Mr. Flynn was for several years one of the most popular and efficient officials here, being trainmaster of the Central City district of the I. C. and subsequently trainmaster of several more important districts, until he was sometime ago promoted to a superintendency. His rise has been rapid, but no more so than expected by his friends. He was in Paducah a few weeks ago on a brief visit to his father-in-law, Justice R. J. Barber. It is likely that when he takes the new position he will be in Paducah oftener, as he will then be in Fulton a great deal.

If the above report is correct, Captain Flynn will succeed Supt. Horn, of the Memphis division, of whose resignation there has been talk for sometime.

POOR GROUND HOG HAD TO SCAMPER IN

Saw His Shadow and Then Felt the Zero Weather.

Couldn't Have Stayed Had There Been No Shadow—Mercury Almost to Zero.

A BLIZZARD IN MANY PLACES.

If the ground hog really came out today, he got back mighty quick, not only because he saw his shadow, but because if he hadn't he would have been frozen too stiff to get back, in a very short time. It would require very little today, not considering the ground hog at all, to convince Paducah people that winter is not over. It may be only begun, for aught anyone knows.

Last night the mercury dropped again, going almost to the zero mark. It went to one degree above, although some of the thermometers went to zero. The suffering has been intense, but possibly not so great as it was a few days ago, because the people are better able to stand it now since they have had a good dose of it.

Horses seemed to suffer more than usual today because many of them slipped and fell. On account of the cold, more than a few drivers attempted to drive the animals faster than they could go over the slick streets, and as a result many of them fell down, some being painfully hurt, and one breaking a leg and having to be shot.

It is not known at what hour the ground hog showed up, but he found it cold when he did, and at most any time would have found sunshine, although there were a few times when the face of the sun was not visible.

The weather predictions for today do not offer much in the way of relief, as they are for colder weather, and continued colder tomorrow.

This is second to the coldest spell of the winter, and it is predicted that the temperature will fall to zero tonight.

The Blizzard in Other Places.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—Reports last night from the lake region, middle west and northwest, show that the cold wave extends over a wide territory, including Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas and the northwest territory.

Temperature ranges from two below zero in Chicago to 28 below in Havre, Montana. Among the points where temperature was below zero are Chicago, 2; Milwaukee, 10; St. Paul, 16; Kansas City, 4; Omaha, 14; Des Moines, 12; Bismarck, 20; Havre, 28; Calgary, 26.

10 Below at Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—At 1 o'clock this morning, Thursday, the thermometer in Chicago registered ten below zero, a fall of eight degrees since seven o'clock last night. The weather forecaster says that before morning the temperature will reach 15 degrees below.

22 Below Zero.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 2.—Southern Wisconsin is wrapped in a cold wave the coldest of the winter. Twenty-two below zero last night and still falling.

11 Below in Iowa.

Burlington, Ia., Feb. 2.—Mercury fell to 11 below zero at 6:30 p. m. yesterday from two above at noon. It is growing colder.

Four Frozen to Death.

Princess Is Recovering.

of the City for Two Days.

Is Investigating Steamboat Inspections in the Larger River Ports.

HE HAS VISITED MANY PLACES

Rear Admiral F. M. Symonds, U. S. N., one of the two government inspectors appointed several months ago to look into the manner of steamboat and marine craft inspections, arrived at noon from Memphis and will be here today and tomorrow.

Rear Admiral Symonds will this afternoon meet Inspectors Green and McDonald, of Nashville, local marine inspectors, and will go over boats in the harbor here to see how the local inspectors do their work.

Several recent steamboat disasters were traced to the negligence of inspectors, especially the Slocum disaster at New York, when several hundred lost their lives, and President Roosevelt decided to have the methods of steamboat inspections thoroughly investigated, and two prominent naval officers were detached for the work.

Admiral Symonds was appointed for this part of the country, and has been to most of the largest ports above including Cincinnati and Louisville. From the latter place he jumped to the Mississippi river, and has been to many of the largest cities along the river.

He worked up to Memphis, and from there came to Paducah. During his stay in the city he will be shown every courtesy by the river men.

TRAIN HITS SLEIGH AND KILLS SEVEN

Deplorable Accident at Hornellsville, N. Y.

Several People Burned to Death in Various Places, and One is Frozen to Death.

A NUMBER HURT IN ACCIDENTS.

Hornellsville, N. Y., Feb. 2.—At Arkport a passenger train on the Pittsburg, Shawmut and Northern railroad crashed into a sleigh containing thirteen women, killing seven outright and so seriously injuring the remaining six that three died after being removed to the hospital. Of the other three two are in a serious condition. The sleigh was one of three carrying a party from the Universalist church of this city who had spent the afternoon at a farmhouse.

The dead—Mrs. Mary Gillette, Mrs. Charles Thomas, Mrs. Eugene Shaw, Mrs. Joseph Hallett, Mrs. C. C. Graves, Mrs. Bert Moore, Mrs. Ruth Patchen, Mrs. Coates, Mrs. Fred Boughton, Mr. Fred Green.

It was nearly dark when the ladies started on the return trip.

The occupants of the leading sleigh saw the train approaching but passed over the tracks in safety. The driver of the second sleigh attempted to stop but he could not check the heavy bob sled quickly enough and when it came to a standstill was directly across the track. The pilot of the engine struck the sleigh with great force, reducing it to splinters and hurling the women in all directions. Every woman on the sleigh was killed or injured.

Others of the party hurried to the assistance of their unfortunate companions and the train was stopped and backed up to the crossing. The bodies of the dead were placed upon the train and the injured were laid upon improvised cots in the baggage car and brought to Hornellsville. The dead were placed in the morgue and the injured taken to a hospital where Mrs. Coates, Mrs. Boughton and Mrs. Green died.

JACK FLYNN STILL RISING RAPIDLY

Popular Former Paducah I. C.
Official to Get Promotion.

His Rise Has Been Rapid—Will Become Superintendent of the Memphis Division.

HIS FRIENDS WILL BE PLEASED

Vicksburg, Miss., Feb. 2.—News was received here to the effect that J. J. Flynn, who for more than a year past has been superintendent of the lower division of the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley railroad, had been ordered to take charge of the Memphis division, the change to be effective shortly. Mr. Flynn succeeded C. N. Bell as superintendent of the lower division, and is very highly esteemed. It is reported that a young man by the name of Porterfield will succeed Mr. Flynn.

The above dispatch will convey pleasing news to the hundreds of friends in Paducah of "Capt. Jack," as he is known among the railroad men. Mr. Flynn was for several years one of the most popular and efficient officials here, being trainmaster of the Central City district of the I. C. and subsequently trainmaster of several more important districts, until he was sometime ago promoted to a superintendency. His rise has been rapid, but no more so than expected by his friends. He was in Paducah a few weeks ago on a brief visit to his father-in-law, Justice R. J. Barber. It is likely that when he takes the new position he will be in Paducah oftener, as he will then be in Fulton a great deal. If the above report is correct, Captain Flynn will succeed Supt. Horn, of the Memphis division, of whose resignation there has been talk for sometime.

Montpelier, Vt., Feb. 2.—Governor Bell this afternoon announced that he would grant a reprieve in the case of Mrs. Mary Rogers, until June 2. He said he granted the reprieve solely on the claim that she has not had a fair trial, and that evidence against her was false.

POOR GROUND HOG HAD TO SCAMPER IN

Saw His Shadow and Then Felt
the Zero Weather.

Couldn't Have Stayed Had There
Been No Shadow—Mercury Almost to Zero.

A BLIZZARD IN MANY PLACES.

If the ground hog really came out today, he got back mighty quick, not only because he saw his shadow, but because if he hadn't he would have been frozen too stiff to get back, in a very short time. It would require very little today, not considering the ground hog at all, to convince Paducah people that winter is not over. It may be only begun, for aught anyone knows.

Last night the mercury dropped again, going almost to the zero mark. It went to one degree above, although some of the thermometers went to zero. The suffering has been intense, but possibly not so great as it was a few days ago, because the people are better able to stand it now since they have had a good dose of it.

Horses seemed to suffer more than usual today because many of them slipped and fell. On account of the cold, more than a few drivers attempted to drive the animals faster than they could go over the slick streets, and as a result many of them fell down, some being painfully hurt, and one breaking a leg and having to be shot.

It is not known at what hour the ground hog showed up, but he found it cold when he did, and at most any time would have found sunshine, although there were a few times when the face of the sun was not visible.

The weather predictions for today do not offer much in the way of relief, as they are for colder weather, and continued colder tomorrow.

This is second to the coldest spell of the winter, and it is predicted that the temperature will fall to zero tonight.

The Blizzard in Other Places.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—Reports last night from the lake region, middle west and northwest, show that the cold wave extends over a wide territory, including Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas and the northwest territory.

Temperature ranges from two below zero in Chicago to 28 below in Havre, Montana. Among the points where temperature was below zero are Chicago, 2; Milwaukee, 10; St. Paul, 16; Kansas City, 4; Omaha, 14; Des Moines, 12; Bismarck, 20; Havre, 28; Calgary, 26.

10 Below at Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—At 1 o'clock this morning, Thursday, the thermometer in Chicago registered ten below zero, a fall of eight degrees since seven o'clock last night. The weather forecaster says that before morning the temperature will reach 15 degrees below.

22 Below Zero.

11 Below in Iowa.

Burlington, Ia., Feb. 2.—Mercury fell to 11 below zero at 6:30 p. m. yesterday from two above at noon. It is growing colder.

Four Frozen to Death.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—A cold wave with a minimum temperature of fourteen below zero, caused much suffering today. Four persons were found frozen to death. The blizzard extended as far south as the Ohio river.

Princess Is Recovering.

London, Feb. 2.—A bulletin issued this morning says that Princess Victoria passed an uncomfortable night but apart from that is making substantial progress toward recovery.

Princeton Doctor Locates Here. Dr. J. T. Gilbert, of Princeton, Ky., has come to Paducah and associated himself with Dr. R. H. Reed, and will occupy offices in the Brook Hill building.

STREETS SELECTED AT CONFERENCE

When Ordinances are Passed Bids Will be Asked.

Board of Works Settles the Light Question—Heat Is Practically Settled.

MARKET HOUSE RACKS NEXT

The board of public works and the joint street committee of the general council held a two hours' meeting at the city hall last night to decide on what streets it is advisable to improve this year out of the bond money. They finally decided to recommend an ordinance providing for the paving with brick or other material the following streets: Kentucky avenue from First to Ninth; Jefferson, from Second to Ninth; Third, from Kentucky avenue to Broad, and then into Broad to Fourth; Fifth, from Kentucky avenue to Norton; Fifth from Jefferson to Clay; Sixth, from Kentucky avenue to Jefferson; Seventh, from Kentucky avenue to Jefferson, Ninth from Kentucky Av. to Jefferson, and Second from Broadway to Washington street.

The total is 52 blocks, and the estimated cost is about $125,000, about all that remains of the bond money, except $10,000 or $11,000. That is, this will be the cost to the city, which has to pay only half. The property owners have to pay the other half, making the total cost of the improvements in the neighborhood of $250,000. After the passage of the necessary ordinances, bids will be asked on brick, asphalt, and bitulithic paving.

The conference resulted in a decision to have only concrete sidewalks along the newly paved streets, the idea not being favorable with the members to allow brick used, as was the case down town under former ordinances because interested city officials owned property they did not have enterprise and pride enough to put concrete sidewalks in front of. The width of the sidewalks was left to the board of works, which favors a twelve foot sidewalk in the district bounded by Clark, Seventh and Monroe streets, and in places outside this district, six feet of concrete and three feet of grass plot for sidewalks. The cost will be about $70,000, which must be paid by property owners.

The board of public works held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon and decided to have the Paducah City Railway furnish the current for the seven arc lights in the new market house. The present lamps will have to be discarded and lamps for alternating current purchased, which will be done by the latter part of the week, and the new lamps will then be connected with the railway power house. Supt. Keblor, of the city light plant, was notified to keep the circuit on which the market house is located, turned on until daylight, in order that the market may be light enough.

The heating question was decided by a vote to allow each butcher who desires to have a radiator put in at his stall, everything being ready for them when they want them.

The board has written a factory relative to furnishing racks for all the butchers, it being cheaper to get them in wholesale lots. Mr. Charles Smith has already secured his rack, which is a very fine one, and cost $50 or more. All the butchers may be compelled to purchase the racks if the price suits the board of works—that is all except Mr. Smith, who

The joint street committee last night decided to allow no blockade of the sidewalks by transfer or other kind of wagons for any purpose. The position of the city lawmakers is that if the tobacco warehouses cannot or will not provide some other place for unloading hogheads of tobacco, that it is no reason they should be allowed to obstruct the sidewalks, often for hours at a time. The city has decided to make no exceptions, but to enforce the law against one and all alike, and the warehouses will have to unload at some other part of their respective buildings, where they will not interfere with the rights and conveniences of the public.

The attention of the Illinois Central was today called to complaints for blocking the street crossings. The city officials desire all who have complaints of this kind to make to swear out warrants as the surest way of stopping blockages.

The board of works will on Monday meet the rack representatives to adopt some uniform meat rack for the market house.

The meat rack manufacturing concerns will have men here and attempt to secure the recommendation of their goods. The rack selected will be used in the market house where heretofore one rack stood four feet off ground, while another hung high, some being metal and others wood.

GOOD COLLECTIONS.

City Treasurer Gets Many Thousand On City License.

City Treasurer John Dorian reports very good collections for the past month.

The penalty on licenses went on today and while yesterday's collections must go on February business, they really should go into January collections.

The total collected last month was $26,123.55, and yesterday about $6,000 was taken in. If the saloons, which will come in for another half year license in July, pay the $8,000, it will swell the collections to $40,000 the amount expected from the license department.

There are many licenses out at present, but the merchants and others requiring a license, are coming up rather fast. The penalty is 10 per cent.

INVITING PROGRESS AND PROSPERITY.

A healthy sentiment is springing up all over the south in favor of corporation interests, and it is being realized in many of the states, especially in Tennessee, that there is good as well as bad in a corporation.

The present crusade against corporations is not to destroy, but to preserve as much of the good, and eliminate as much of the bad, as possible. The highest court in Tennessee a few days ago rendered an opinion in favor of the biggest telephone corporation in the south, which had been hounded and harassed for years by envious competitors. The growing appreciation of investments in the south is thus evidenced by the Nashville News, in commenting on the telephone decision:

"This decree will permanently set at rest spiteful and sectional assaults on enterprises of general use and cause the investors to feel that their interests are safe under the protection of the courts of Tennessee, and that to whatever extent the lower courts may yield to local or sectional prejudices, the higher courts are governed in accordance with the law and the facts.

"The great trouble with most litigation of this sort is that it is inspired by those who are either prejudiced or uninformed. Likewise, it is a fact that most bills originating in legislative bodies are introduced by parties generally prejudiced or, at best, incompetent to pass offhand upon the questions involved. For instance, in telephony either as regards construction or operation, it has taken a long number of years for the present managers to reach their state of experience and efficiency.

"In fact, the further the telephone is developed the more intricate the questions to arise. A point in instance is that it has been found more expensive proportionately to operate a large exchange than a small one,
while as a general business proposition it would appear to the contrary.
It is therefore a momentous question for the inexperienced—this matter of fair legislation.

"The judges just handing down
the above decision had all the evidence before them that prejudice, bad feeling and adroitness could muster to sustain the charges made, and yet, after a close and particular study of the case, it was dismissed. The legislature, therefore, to be fair, should carefully go into the merits of telephone bills, duly considering that some of the public are always ready for cheapening their own expenses, but that there is no public clamor of oppressive telephone rates.

The same rates, in fact, exist now when more than 100,000 subscribers can be connected on the Cumberland's own lines, as when the company had not more than 25,000."

The authorities of Bedford, Ind., considered the irresponsible yarn of a spiteful woman of sufficient importance to arrest two friendless laborers for the Shafer murder, but they did not consider her statement implicating a rich young man and prominent young woman, of sufficient importance to arrest them. It would seem to the outside world that if the woman's word is worth anything at all, everybody she implicates should be arrested, instead of only part of them.

The gentlemen who went east to finance the interurban road may have run out of grease. They seemed to have had a good supply of excellent quality to use in getting things through in Paducah and a supply of the kind used here ought to be shipped to them by express at once.

learn of the success she is meeting
in and also of her being highly enon January 27, Richmond, Va., by the country club of that city, a social club of the greatest prominence and exclusiveness.

Miss Bagby's friends are writing
Attorney E. W. Bagby, her father,

Thieves Broke Into Louis Clark's
Last Night.

Mr. Louis Clark's grocery on Jefferson street, was broken into last night and a lot of canned goods taken.

Entrance was effected by breaking out a glass, and no money was missed. The thieves got away with a great deal of canned goods and it is said Officers Woods and Cross know who did it and if Mr. Clark wants to prosecute, will make a strong case against them.

RIVER FREEZING OVER AT PADUCAH

Ice Forming Rapidly on Both the Banks.

If It Freezes Here It Will Be the
First Time Since the Year 1876.

NO BOATS ARE RUNNING

For the first time since 1876 the river is partially frozen here on the inside of the wharfbank and Mr.
Saunders A. Fowler, local observer, stated this morning that since that year the river had never been so full of ice at this point as now. The prospects are that the river may entirely freeze here if the cold weather keeps up a day or two longer.

The boats are all laid up and about the only thing moving was the Clyde which went out last night, and the Cowling which made two trips today but which will likely discontinue tomorrow until the ice thins out.

The Tennessee river is getting full of ice for the first time in many years and only the harbor boats which have to get out, can be seen moving about, while ice has been coming out of the Cumberland for a week past.

There would be nothing remarkable should the river freeze over this winter, however, for it has been very low for many months, and there has been more cold weather than for many years.

The Mississippi has been frozen at St. Louis for sometime, and people rarely use the bridge and save bridge fare. Even the gamblers have set up joints in the middle of the river to catch the unwary traveler with sporting proclivities, and when the police come, they cross to the nearest bank or the one outside the jurisdiction of the officer. If it is a patrolman or deputy sheriff from St.
Louis they run to the Illinois shore,
and if one from East St. Louis, Ill.,
to the Missouri shore.

The river is now frozen over at Louisville, also, and the Ohio at points above has been frozen several times this year. Needless to say, if it freezes over at Paducah it will be a spectacle which many will enjoy because of having heard of their parents or grandparents talk about it.

Old rivermen, who are watching conditions closely, predict that the coming spring will bring a higher river than has been experienced in the spring for several years. They base this prediction on the fact that the weather has remained a steady, cold at the head of the Ohio and its tributary streams, while the snowfall has been as great as usual during the winter months. This snow is still lying on the mountains, and when it begins to melt will fill the streams rapidly.

With a comparatively low stage of water, and the consequent sluggish current, rivermen say it would require but a few days of severe weather to freeze the river over.

Navigation is still suspended between Louisville and the headwaters of the Ohio. Continued cold at the headwaters insures a steady stage of water as long as that condition continues. There is a great deal of snow lying in the feeding sections north and when a warm wave of any duration strikes that section there will be a rapid rise of considerable magnitude.

—The Ground Hog saw his shadow; this means six weeks more of winter, so come to Guthrie's for blankets, wool and fleece lined stockings, all at cost.

Missouri Nominee for United States
Senator Tells Legislature All About Contribution to Campaign Fund.

St. Louis, Feb. 2.—At a special session of the committee appointed by the house of representatives of the Missouri legislature to investigate the charges contained in a joint resolution that Thomas K. Niedringhaus, chairman of the state Republican committee and caucus nominee for United States senator, had accepted $21,000 from St. Louis brewers to influence legislation, Mr. Nied-ringhaus made a complete statement denying the allegations.

The house committee had previously adjourned for the day, when the members were informed of the statements made by E. C. Brok-meyer, a witness before the senate session was called and Mr. Niedringhaus was summoned. He said that in presence of Senator Fairbanks, former Senator Mason and others.
Mr. Busch and Mr. Stifel agreed to join with him in making up $25,000, which was needed for campaign purposes. He assumed his share and the others assumed theirs without promise of reward. It was agreed that should the national committee furnish the money the amount subscribed by the three should be returned.

son's Merrimac feat Judge Hobson, although a democrat, was appointed by President McKinley as postmaster

"The Worm Turns."

Doesn't it make you weary to read the rot of those rattle-brained idiots of the Chicago press who are repeatedly ridiculing the country papers on their locals?

These two-by-four lunch counter fiends think it awful funny when some country newspaper says "Hiram Slocum has sold his 'Holstein cow to Ed Childress." But of course it is just the proper caper when they say "Mrs. Franklin Oliver Lowden has just returned from the Epsom Lorimer Kennels." Oh, that's great!
That bull pup would bring about thirty cents in the dog pound, while Slocum's cow would sell for $50 in the dark.

Because Gussie Davis was over at Guard's Point Sunday to see his best girl they throw a shoe, but if William Henry Harrison Pook, the society leader, was in Milwaukee last Saturday to see Miss Gerlie Pabst
they would slobber over a half column and have three pictures of Ger-tie and William Henry on the front page.—Gallatin, Ill., Democrat.

AN APPEAL FOR CALEB POWERS

The undersigned, regardless of political affiliations, have been constituted a committee to solicit and disburse a fund for the defense for Caleb Powers.

The court of appeals of Kentucky,
having reversed the judgment sentencing him to death, remands the case to the Scott circuit court for another trial. Mr. Powers has been subjected to three trials and three appeals from the judgments of the circuit court, all of which have been reversed. His case goes back now to be tried from the beginning. The three trials and three appeals to which he has been subjected have exhausted all his means. His parents and other relatives have sacrificed everything they possessed for him, and he is now wholly dependent on the fund that this committee may raise for his defense. The prosecution has at its disposal, in addition to the ordinary machinery of the courts, $100,000, which the legislature appropriated for the conviction of those charged with the murder of Senator Goebel. Caleb Powers, while steadfastly maintaining his innocence, has been confined in jail five years. We feel called upon to say that our sole purpose is to obtain a fair trial for Mr. Powers, and a fair trial by an impartial jury is all that he demands. We believe the people of Kentucky will be satisfied with nothing less.

To meet the necessary expenses of his fourth trial, a large sum is absolutely necessary. At the former trials, which lasted from five to seven weeks each, Mr. Powers was compelled to submit to trial in the absence of many of his witnesses by reason of the fact that he had not the means to pay their expenses to attend. Many of these witnesses are very poor, and while anxious to testify in the case, have not the means to do so at their own expense, living.

as they do, at a distance, yet their testimony is of vital importance.
Funds must be provided to secure their attendance. This alone will require a large sum of money. In addition to this expense, the stenographer's charges, costs of transcripts of testimony, expense of interviewing distant witnesses, counsel fees, and other expenses incident to the trial, will require, in the opinion of the committee, all that can be raised. The state can procure everything needed by it, and justice to Mr. Powers requires no less for him.

Judge Barker who wrote the opinion reversing the judgment of the lower court, says:

"Nothing more surely tends to enhance the respect men owe the law than a firmly rooted conviction that its judgments are the offspring of even-handed justice, and if its temple an impartial jury is the chief cornerstone."

It is now the hope and expectation of the people that Caleb Powers will at last be tried by an impartial jury.
The committee makes this appeal for a fund to pay the necessary expenses of this fourth trial, and will undertake to receive and disburse all contributions with the utmost care and fidelity. We hope for a fund sufficiently large to enable Mr. Powers to obtain a trial that all fair men will say was fair.

Contributions should be sent to Mr. John Marshall, treasurer of the committee, Louisville Trust Company Building, and we would request that responses to this appeal be as prompt as possible, for the trial will probably take place within the next sixty days and we must be prepared.

When You Want, You Want What You Want

It has been said a want advertisement has a thousand eyes.
Sherlock Holmes had but two although they were unconmonly good ones.

However, Holmes could not have found for you, overnight, the one man in Paducah who wanted to buy your house, or your business, or your horse, cow, desk, or any article of furniture you wished to dispose of; or just the man who would make you a good clerk, coachman, porter, or man about the house; or the girl who is an excellent stenographer; or get you a cook to fill the place of the one who left so unceremoniously last night.

But "the thousand-eyed" want ad in The Sun will do that little stunt. Does it every day for just any number of people.

The injured man was taken to the Y. M. C. A. building at Mounds, where he was given medical attention. He was taken then to Cairo and placed in St. Mary's infirmary. ## NEW TRIAL GRANTED IN BIG DAMAGE SUIT

This Sets Aside $25,000 Verdict Against the I. C.

Judge Reed Throws Out a Number of Divorce Suits That Were Not Ready.

SOME NEWS OF OTHER COURTS.

Circuit Court.

Circuit Judge Wm. Reed continued calling the equity docket today.

Nothing of importance was done, and merely the preliminary routine matters are being acted on.

In the case of L. E. Stevenson, administrator, against the I. C., in which a judgment for $25,000 was given the plaintiff, the court granted a new trial. This is the biggest verdict for damages ever returned in this court.

In the case of Bettie Jones against James Glauber, the motion of the plaintiff for a new trial was overruled.

A suit was filed this morning by I. O. Walker, administrator of Satira Walker, against Elma Dorris Walker, for a settlement of the estate.

Circuit Judge Reed means everything he says, and yesterday dismissed the following divorce actions because the papers were not ready:

Hague vs Hague, Harlin vs Harlin, Davis vs Davis, Stovall vs Stovall, Bolen vs Bolen, Johnson vs Johnson, Harris vs Harris, Crofton vs Crofton, Reeves vs Reeves, Cammon vs Cammon, Wright vs Wright, Samuels vs Samuels, Blackburn vs Blackburn, Newman vs Newman and Nimmo vs Nimmo.

Judge Reed gave all ample warning several months ago that he would tolerate no unnecessary delay and that all papers must be ready when cases were called.

The attorneys for the railroad never once doubted that the court would set aside the $25,000 verdict and grant a new trial, because it was generally admitted that the verdict was excessive.

Licensed to Marry.

M. A. Sandefer, city, aged 26, to Sophia Jane Dexter, city, aged 20. It makes the first marriage of both.

Agreements Filed.

Two agreed orders, agreeing on the backtax assessment between the plaintiff, Tillman Albritton, revenue agent, and the defendants in the case against J. R. Smith & Co., and J. P. and Mary E. Smith, executrix of J. R. Smith, have been filed in county court. The agreements are filed as soon as made out.

Police Court.

Police Judge D. L. Sanders held a short session of police court this morning.

Joe Woody, white, was arraigned for stealing stoves from Captain H. Baker and selling them as his property. The case was continued until tomorrow.

Tom Evans, white, was fined $1 and costs for drunkenness.

H. Otto was fined $5 and costs for being drunk.

Suit On a Debt.

This morning a suit was filed by Nichols, Shepard & Co., against C. P. and T. L. Matlock for an alleged debt of $439 with interest and for the sale of mortgaged property to satisfy the claim.

Attorney Pete Seay, of Mayfield, is in the city.

Mrs. Armour Gardner returned this afternoon from Louisville.

CHARITY CLUB.

Meeting Held Yesterday — Much Good Being Done.

The Charity club met yesterday at the courthouse. It was found that many persons had been helped and that the society had been successful in every way. Many needy and deserving families have been aided and only a few impositions discovered.

The matter of giving a charity ball was discussed but nothing definite done in the matter. This will be decided at a future called meeting.

Miss Grundy, secretary of the society, today has done much for the paupers. Her office at the courthouse has been besieged with applicants for alms and she has been kept busy.

TREATMENT OF PILES.

Permanence of Cure the True Test. Many so-called pile remedies will afford the user slight temporary relief and the majority of those afflicted do not expect more than this.

The average sufferer, after having tried every preparation recommended for the cure of piles, comes to the conclusion that there is no cure except by an operation and rather than undergo this "last resort" he suffers on, resigned to the situation, so far as may be. The attention of those interested is invited to the following experience.

"After ten years of suffering from blind, bleeding and protruding piles and after using every remedy I could hear of without any benefit, I finally bought a fifty cent box of Pyramid Pile Cure and used it with such good results I bought next a dollar box, which finished up the job. That was nearly six years ago and as far as piles is concerned I am cured, and have never felt a symptom of them since.

"Many others have used this remedy by my advice with the same results and I always recommend it to sufferers with piles." C. H. Potts, Burlington, Kan.

Testimony like this should convince the most skeptical the Pyramid Pile Cure not only cures, but cures to stay cured. It is in the form of a suppository, can be applied in the privacy of the home, directly to the parts affected and does its work quickly and painlessly.

Druggists generally sell this famous remedy for fifty cents a package and sufferers are urged to buy a package now and give it a trial tonight. Accept no substitutes.

A little book describing the causes and cure of piles is published by the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., and same will be sent free to any address for the asking.

FELL INTO RIVER TWICE IN TWO DAYS

Youths Had an Icy Bath Trying to Get Out of Ice.

They Were Hauled Out by a Man On the Lyda, Little the Worse For The Experience.

ONE BOY FELL IN YESTERDAY.

Thompson Manus and Joe Vick, youths, about 16 years of age, experienced perilous times in the icy waters of the Tennessee near the foot of Washington street this morning at 7 o'clock and came near freezing to death.

The former lives on a house boat moored at Owen's Island and the latter lives on Elizabeth street in the city. They started across the river from the island this morning and when within a few hundred feet of the shore on the Kentucky side, got gorged in ice and their oars became useless.

Manus got out of the boat and attempted to propel the craft by pushing on the ice with his feet, but slipped in. He became numb and pretty soon both boys were in such a plight as to be unable to hold themselves. They were barely able to grasp a line thrown out by Mr. John Jacobson, of the steamer Lyda, and he pulled their skiff in by the aid of a steam capstan on the boat.

The boys were cold and numb and it required some time to thaw them out. After they had recovered from their experience, they went up the hill to the home of Vick.

Manus yesterday afternoon late had a thrilling experience in the river and but for the hasty action of the watchman on the steamer Red River, at the ways here, might have drowned.

Manus was coming over in askiff when swamped by waves from the Castalia. He fell out of his boat and the craft got out of his reach. He struck out for the Red River and swam at least a barge length, close enough to let the watchman throw a rope and be pulled in.

The river men think the boy must bear a charmed life, taking into consideration the tight places he has emerged from unscathed.

Married in Cairo.

Mr. J. C. O'Bryan, lineaman for the Postal Telegraph company in this district for several years past, and Miss Dena Pryor, daughter of Mr. S. B. Pryor, were married at Cairo, Ill., Tuesday by Rev. Porter, of the Methodist church. Both are popular young people, Mr. O'Bryan being one of the best known and best liked men between Louisville and Paducah on the Illinois Central road. His duties call him to many places, and he and his bride have received many congratulations.

Croup

Begins with the symptoms of a common cold; there is chilliness, sneezing, sore throat, hot skin, quick pulse, hoarseness and impeded respiration. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's Horehound Syrup (the child will cry for it) and at the first sign of a croupy cough, apply frequently Ballard's Snow Liniment to the throat.

Mrs. A. Vliet, New Castle, Colo., writes, March 19th, 1901: "I think Ballard's Horehound Syrup a wonderful remedy, and so pleasant."

New Express Agent.

Mr. A. B. Brown, who has been agent for the Southern Express company here for the past eighteen years, has resigned to accept a position in the superintendent's office at Nashville. He is succeeded by Mr. W. J. Decker, of Evansville, who is here and will be agent for the Southern and Adams, the offices of which were several months ago consolidated.

Are You Restless at Night.

And harassed by a bad cough? Use Ballard's Horehound Syrup. It will secure you sound sleep and effect a prompt and radical cure. 25c, 50c, and $1.00. DuBois, Kolb & Co., Paducah, Ky.

BARR,

"We will wait here till Angus overtakes us," he said. "This bonfire may collect some of the moths, and it's better traveling three than two."

"We've not far to go," said Armstrong, "and that's a blessing, for I'm on a long jaunt in the morning and would be glad of my bed as soon as may be."

"Where are you off to?" asked the earl indifferently, gazing anxiously down the road for a sight of his follower, who was not yet visible.

Armstrong replied with equal nonchalance. "Oh, I'm just away for Oxford to carry a message from Lord Traquair to the king of England."

"What!" cried his lordship, nearly starting from his saddle in amazement.

"Surely my talk before these caddies did not mislead you. I'll take your message through and bring you back an answer, if the thing's possible, but I cannot have those fools pottering and whispering in the matter. They must know nothing of my going. You will meet them two days hence, except whomsoever they propose and let him blunder along to a rebel gallows. It will be one blockhead out of the way, and then wise folk can do their bit travels unmolested."

"But how can I send papers with him when they'll be in your pouch?"

"Indeed, and that they will not be. This night's work compels one to a change of programme. I shall carry no papers with me. If you let me read them I'll remember every word though they be as long as the Psalms. I'll repeat them to the king with as few slips as any man in the realm. If you have a password or sign, or if you can tell me some incident that only you and the king know of, which will assure him that I am from you, everything else will be plain plodding. It would be folly for me now that Cromwell's spy is on the gallop to carry a line of writing that bears relation to politics. I'll be arrested before I'm a mile beyond the border, so my chance of getting through will depend on the search they make. If they find nothing it is likely they'll let me go, and I must manage to get back as best I can. There's no sense in being hanged for a spy the first day I set out."

"Armstrong, you're a hero," said Traquair. "You shall read the papers to-night and look over them again in the morning. The important matter is to get the king's commission back to us. Ah, here is Angus with his sack, so we'll say no more until we reach the castle."

CHAPTER XI.

THE night after he left Traquair's castle Armstrong slept on Scottish soil, busy with his task of memory. Then he burnt the notes in the fire that cooked his supper. It was scarcely daylight when he faced the clear and rippling Esk, and after crossing the stream to "fell English ground" he halted his horse on the southern shore and cast a long look at the hills of his native country as one who might be taking farewell of them. Then with a sigh he turned to his task and sent no further glance behind.

Arriving at a forking of the road, both branches tending south, he paused and pondered. Which should he take? He knew them equally well. The main road led to Carlisle and in time of peace would have been preferable. The other, less direct, would probably carry him farther in these uncertain times. The country showed no sign of the devastation of civil war unless it was the absence of a population and a deserted condition of the thoroughfares. That he could avoid contact with the parliamentary forces was impossible whichever road he took, and the question now demanding solution was not so much his direction as whether it were well to bring on his inevitable encounter with the Cromwellites sooner or later.

The Carlisle route promised the speedier run into the arms of the enemy, but by the other route he would have more chance of bargaining about cattle and thereby giving color of truth to his statement that he was an innocent Scots drover, anxious to turn an honest penny. When questioned by an officer he could then say he had endeavored to deal with So-and-so, and later investigation would prove the fact. But to an observer he bore the attitude of a stranger who had lost his way. This was evidently the conclusion arrived at by an object hidden in the hedge which had proved his night's lodging. The object sprang out across the ditch with a suddenness that made the horse start and snort in alarm, to be soothed by the gentle pat of its rider's hand, for the imperturbable Armstrong seemed surprised at nothing that took place. The object had the wild, unkempt appearance of one who habitually slept out of doors. His long and matted hair, emaciated face and ragged beard, no less than his tattered clothing, or covering rather, made up of odds and ends of various costumes, formed a combination by no means attractive. He held in his hand, grasped by the middle, a long stick, somewhat taller than himself.

"My gay gentleman," he cried cheerfully, "will you pay the price of a fool's advice?"

"You haven't given me any."

"The advice all depends on what you pay for it. Let me see the coin, then I'll show you my wares. We differ in this, that I'll take whatever you give me, but you can take my advice or not, as you please."

The horseman threw him a coin, which the object clutched in mildair with great expertness and examined eagerly.

"Thank you, gay gentleman. The advice is to turn your fine horse end for end and get back among the fools of your own kidney. We are always safer among our own kind."

"Are there any cattle for sale hereabouts? I see none in the fields."

"I sometimes sell cattle myself," said the object, with a cunning look.

"It does not seem a very prosperous business, then. Where do you get your stock?"

"Oh, I pick it up on the roads. You'll find no cattle on the way to Carlisle. The country is swept bare in that direction. But I can lead you to a fine herd if you make it worth my while."

"In which direction?"

"Down this way. Come along. Are you after any particular breed?"

"No. Anything there's money in."

"You're just like me," said the vagrant, with a laugh, as he strode off down the unfrequented road. The object walked with incredible speed, laughing to himself now and then, and Armstrong was forced to trot his horse to keep up with him. On arriving at a slight eminence the guide waved his long arm toward a standing in the valleys, which looked like a deserted group of farm buildings, and said:

"There's a fine lot of cattle down yonder."

"I can see no signs of them."

"No, no! They're well stabled. Nothing lasts in the fields nowadays. They're not such fools as that. This herdsman knows when to keep his beasts in shelter. And with this the vagabond raised a shrill shout that echoed from the opposite hills.

"What are you crying like that for?" asked Armstrong, without showing any alarm.

"Oh, just to let the farmer know we're coming. Always give friendly warning in these parts, and then you may not get something in your inside that's hard to digest. That's a fool's advice and costs you nothing."

"Your cry meets with no response," said Armstrong, laughing at the shallow cunning of his treacherous guide, for his keen eyes noted crouching figures making way along the other side of a hedge, and he knew that if he went down the lane, at whose junction with the road the beggar stood with repressed eagerness, he would find himself surrounded. Nevertheless he followed without betraying any knowledge of the trap he was entering.

As they neared the farmhouse a voice cried sharply "Halt!" and an armed man sprang up from behind the hedge, cutting off retreat, if such had been attempted. While the others made through the hedge to the lane, the latter man as nimbly put the hedge between himself and his victim, as if fearing a reprisal, laughing boisterously, but rather nervously.

"Brave captain, I've brought you a fine horse and a gay gentleman, and the two are for sale."

The man who had cried "Halt!" stepped forth from the shelter of the nearest outbuilding, a drawn sword in his hand, followed by two others with primed matchlocks, stolidly ready for any emergency. Four others closed up the rear coming down the lane. There was no mistaking the fact that the man with the drawn sword was an officer, even if the object had not addressed him as captain, a salutation to which he paid no attention, for, although his uniform showed little difference from that of his men, he had in his stern face the look of one accustomed to obedience. The horseman had drawn up at the word and sat quite nonchalantly on his steed, as if this were an affair of no particular concern to himself.

"Who are you?" asked the captain.

"My name is William Armstrong," replied the rider simply. In spite of himself, the stolid face of the leader showed some surprise at this announcement, as if he knew the name and had not expected to hear it so frankly acknowledged.

"Where are you from?"

"I came across the border this morning. I am a Scotsman."

"Why are you here?"

"I am a cattle dealer, and as there is little doing in my own country I thought I would just see if business was better on this side of the line. This amusing lunatic said there was cattle for sale in the valley and led me hither, for which service I paid him a trifle."

"And so there is, and so there is," cried the lunatic, "but the price was for my advice, not for the leading hither. I must get my pay for that yet. Aye, there's cattle for sale here, and I'm the marketman."

"Peace to your folly," said the captain, scowling, then curly to the horseman, "Dismount."

Armstrong sprang to the ground.

"I'LL TAKE YOUR MESSAGE."

"Your sword," demanded the officer. The weapon was handed to him.

"Do cattle dealers in your country carry arms?"

"To tell you the truth," said the young man, with a laugh, "if they did not they would carry little money home with them. I not only carry arms, but know how to use them on occasion."

"I ask to see your papers giving you permission to travel in England."

"I have none. Scotland is at peace with England, and a citizen of my country should not require papers in visiting England any more than an Englishman would need the same to go from one end of Scotland to the other."

"Humph," growled the captain, "you are well versed in the law. I hope you are engaged in no enterprise that is contrary to it."

The Good Old Way.

A severe cold or attack of la grippe is like a fire, the sooner you combat it the better your chances are to overpower it. But few mothers in this age are willing to do the necessary work required to give a good old-fashioned reliable treatment such as would be administered by their grandmothers, backed by Boschee's German Syrup, which was always liberally used in connection with the home treatment of colds and is still in greater household favor than any known remedy. But even without the application of the old-fashioned aids German Syrup will cure a severe cold in quick time. It will cure colds in children or grown people. It relieves the congested organs, allays the irritation, and effectively stops the cough. Any child will take it. It is invaluable in a household of children. Trial size bottle, 25c; regular size, 75c. For sale by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

FARMERS HAPPY

Over the Outlook for the Growers' Combine.

Clarksville, Tenn., Feb. 2.—The inclement weather kept many farmers from attending the regular meeting of the Tobacco Growers' Association, which was held at the courthouse. There was plenty of enthusiasm and the members seem more determined than ever to win their fight.

The time of the session was taken up in disposing of cases where members had sold their tobacco. A. G. Gentry and a man named Rinehart, who disposed of their crop, asked to be reinstated and sent in their obligation pledging their tobacco to the association. The meeting adjourned after a short session to meet again on February 13.

It is understood that several parties, large dealers in tobacco, are in correspondence with the association to purchase the entire crop at the association's prices. One firm, it is understood, wants 30,000,000 pounds.

OLD CHINESE CALENDAR.

The Way Its Errors Were Rectified by a Jesuit Astronomer.

In the old Chinese classic, the records of Yao, we are told that "the bade Hi and Ho reverently to regard the signs and respectfully give the times of men." Hi, Ho and two others of their respective families were ordered to the four points of the compass to determine the equinoxes and solstices. The bird, supposed to be our Cor Hydras, was to be the star of spring, Antares (Alpha Scorpii) of summer, Beta Aquarii for autumn and the world renowned Pleiades the sign of the winter solstice. "Oh, you Hi and Ho," the old document continues, "all around there are three hundred and sixty and six days! Use the extra moon, order the seasons and perfect the year. Faithfully regulate the hundred offices, and all the works will be perfect." Thus was formed the first Chinese calendar about 2,300 years ago, before the Christian era, and its regulation has always been an object of care and interest to the emperors from Yao down to the present day.

Practically no changes were made in it until the mission of the Jesuits to Peking in the seventeenth century. The help of Mohammedan astronomers had been sought, but they were unable to cope with the difficulties which presented themselves, and the emperor, Kang Hi, was thankful to let the Jesuits take the lead in all astronomical researches. He built them an observatory at Peking, which Father Verbiest fitted up in 1688 in thorough up to date style. The errors of centuries had accumulated in all departments of the science, and the foreigners had a hard task to eliminate them and introduce European improvements without exciting hostility. The accuracy of their calculations soon inspired such confidence that Father Verbiest was appointed president of the mathematical tribunal. He soon turned his attention to the calendar, rectifying the errors, but not making many changes beyond introducing the twelve signs of the zodiac and dividing it into 360 degrees instead of 365 1/4, as was the old Chinese division. The reformed calendar went into many details, and the calculations were given down to the year 2020 A. D. It was published in thirty-two volumes and called in honor of the emperor the Kang Hi Perpetual Calendar.

The solar and lunar years are both used, and a combination is effected between the two by adding seven extra moons during the period of the lunar cycle—that is, nineteen solar years. The civil year commences with the second new moon after the winter solstice and consists of twelve months or moons, called large or small, according to whether they consist of twenty-nine or thirty days. When an extra moon is to be used a thirteenth moon is not added, but one of the months is doubled. The rule that the winter solstice shall be kept in the eleventh moon is never departed from.—Living Church.

An Unfinished Prayer.

A southern doctor of divinity in New York on his vacation was speaking of unusual prayers he had heard. One was made by a young lawyer who, through innate piety or from a desire to advance his political fortunes by being identified with the church, besought the preacher to call on him for prayer in the weekly prayer meeting. Suspecting that politics and not piety was at the bottom of the lawyer's desire to pray in public, the preacher did not call on him until one rainy night, when the attendance was slim. Then Brother H., being asked to "lead us in prayer," began his supplication. In great detail he mentioned the various situations, personal and general, in which the divine guidance was desired. Finally, however, he hesitated as if he had forgotten anything else to say. He showed signs of confusion, and then, in a despairing tone of voice, continued: "In conclusion, your honor, I might mention many other things, but these will suffice for tonight Amen."

Remarkable Smile.

Mr. Robert Pollok, a Scottish poet, while a student of theology once delivered a trial discourse before the Secession Divinity Hall, Glasgow, the subject of which was "Sin." His manner of treating it was, in the opinion of his fellow students, rather bombastic, and at some passages there were audible symptoms of the amusement which they derived from Mr. Pollok's high flown phrases.

At last there came one flight of fancy which was so remarkable that the professor himself was fairly obliged to give way—and smiled. It was when the young preacher had reached a climax in his enumeration of the dreadful evils which sin had brought into the world.

"And had it not been for sin," remarked Mr. Pollok, with great vehemence of manner and tone, "had it not been for sin, the smile of folly had never been seen upon the brows of wisdom."

Napoleon and His Hats.

It is interesting to note that the legend of the "petit chapeau" still exists. Frenchmen always refer to the headgear of the first Napoleon as "the little hat." This is because the hats worn by Bonaparte at Toulon, at Austerlitz, during the famous eighteenth Brumaire and at Marengo were all quite small. When it came to widen the brims of his hats, so as to be more becoming, as he became fat and "potbellied" and as his face became bigger and bigger his hats became broader and broader. For instance, the hat of Waterloo is three times the size of the hat of Austerlitz. These facts are recorded in the inventories of the emperor's hatbox, Poupard et Cie.—New York Tribune.

Henderson and Hopkinsville

Ready to Post Their Forfeit Money
—Princeton to Have a Good Team.

LATE GOSSIP OF THE DIAMOND

Both Hopkinsville and Henderson have decided to be good and will post their K. I. T. forfeit money as soon as the treasurer gives bond and can accept it.

The Princeton, Ind., team will be called the "Infants," and preparations are being made by Manager John Ray to secure a good team. He says he will take all the best players of the Clarksville bunch and will incidentally secure a few more crack players to fill out his team. Ray had the advantage of judging the good players of this league last season and will try to land all the good ones.

Wernecke, who played with Henderson and later Paducah last season, will be with Princeton. John Lyons, an infielder, will also play. Fred Wassman, a Vincennes pitcher, will be tried by Princeton. Ray is dickering for Wilkerson, first baseman of the Vincennes team last season.

A Princeton paper says of the financial conditions in baseball there: "Princeton will be well fixed for the season with any kind of luck whatever. Over $1,000 worth of stock has been sold outright and $300 has been received in cash donations and sixty-five season tickets sold. Season tickets good for forty games were sold at $10 each. This means that the organization will have about $1,950 to start with."

Zimbro wants to get Land and Lloyd wants to get Bohannon, and Lloyd has offered to trade Pitcher Freeman for Bohannon who does not want to return to Henderson. No deal has been closed however.

Zimbro will this season use Outfielders Mullen, Long, Infielders Crowder and Bohannon and Pitchers Kubitz, Gilbert and Morgan.

President Charles Brown states that he will call a meeting of the league about a month from now to prepare for the season.

KENTUCKY NEWS TOLD IN PARAGRAPHS

A Strange Religion.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 2.—The death of the bride of Thomas Edmonson, a traction employe, has revealed the existence of a strange religion in Ludlow, Ky. Unusual scenes at the home of the dead girl's mother, Mrs. Laura Green, Ludlow, followed the removal of the girl's body to that residence. The widower, who has been married but ten months, left his bed, and though his temperature was 104, declared he was healed of typhoid fever and went to look at the face of his dead wife. Edmonson, who is again in bed at the home of his wife's mother in Ludlow, says he was healed by prayer and anointment and says he will go to work in a few days.

To a reporter Mrs. Green, mother of the dead woman, said: "We believe in the religion known as the 'Church of God,' which has its headquarters in a community of some twenty families who have all things in common at Moundsville, W. Va. We believe the days of miracles are not past. When my son-in-law left his typhoid fever bed and walked downstairs it was a miracle. It was in direct answer to prayer."

Theatrical Notes

Some years ago when Raymond Hitchcock, of the "Yankee Consul" company, was realizing all the vicissitudes of life with a barn storming troupe, he was called on to play the hero in one of those lurid melodramas which rejoice in such titles as "Bertha, the Sewing Machine Girl," etc. During the course of the action, the hero, after experiencing all the ills that flesh is heir to from the sleek cigarette smoking villain, is finally tied to the railroad track.

"My character," said the comedian, in telling the story, recently, "was that of a brave section hand, and if I remember rightly, the heroine was the daughter of the village boarding house keeper. The mean villain first locked the suffering heroine in the flagman's shanty, and then after a terrible encounter he bearded me and tied me to the track. Now the property man on this occasion had forgotten to place the axe with which the heroine was to break open the door and liberate me from my perilous position. The lady impersonating the heroine was rushing around—like Richard of old—shouting in hoarse whispers, 'an axe, an axe.' The men in charge of the train were overzealous, and without waiting until the all necessary axe was secured, started the train. Eight day coaches and a baggage car passed over me, to say nothing of the paste board engine, yet I was ready in the next act to deal out deferred retribution to that deep dyed villain."

One, to be transported among the most romantic southern scenes has only to see the production of "A Romance of Coon Hollow," which will hold the stage at The Kentucky Monday, February 6. Here, mirrored by nature, in beauty and quaintness, are given pictures of life in old Tennessee. It is a story of love and jealousy, told in a graceful way, and given realism by stage effects that are reflections of every-day life in the south. Among the scenes are a plantation cotton compress in operation, and a moonlight revelation of the famous glen, Coon Hollow, with electric and lime-light effects. A well selected company will appear in the production, now in its eleventh season of success. Seats on sale Saturday 10 a. m.

"Arizona," which will appear at The Kentucky next Wednesday night is, primarily, the best play Augustus Thomas has written, and is infinitely better than the other neighborhood dramas of "Alabama," and "In Missouri." Mr. Thomas has handled the attendant circumstances with a great deal of technical skill and has been successful in imparting to his play a quality of atmosphere that is intrinsic, and not at all dependent upon the material assistance to be obtained from the expert utilization of the mechanical appliances of the theaters.

A small but appreciative audience enjoyed "Man and Master" at The Kentucky last night. The Frank Dudley company again gave one of the best, cleanest performances ever witnessed in Paducah, and its various members creditably portrayed every character. Tonight "Camille" will be presented.
